SOUDAN MUTINY LOOMS AS A SERIOUS AFFAIR

FIERCE STREET BATTLE OCCURS IN KHARTOUM

FANATICAL SOUDANESE TROOPS RUSHED BRITISH HOSPITAL

BLACKS FOUGHT LIKE TRAPPED RATS WHEN SURROUNDED BY BRITISH

(By United Press)
Cairo, Nov. 29.—The mutiny in the Sudan was more serious than first meagre reports indicated.

Fanatical Soudanese troops, who rushed the military hospital at Khartoum put up a desperate street battle with British regulars who intervened. The blacks fought like trapped rats when surrounded by the British and were shot down in repeated volleys.

All direct wires between Khartoum and Cairo were cut and only mutilated wireless messages were being received from the capital on the Blue Nile, where Soudanese numbering about 200 mutinied yesterday after their officers had been removed. At least one British and two Syrian physicians were killed by the blacks as they stormed the military hospital. The ensuing slaughter is understood to have been heavy.

Two British officers were killed in street fighting and eight British privates were wounded.

The dispatch which contained this information said the situation was well in hand.

The local censor at Khartoum appears to be functioning, considering the nature and content of such dispatches as are getting through.

Definite news that the mutiny has been quelled has not been received, although this was inferred. It was the opinion of British authorities here that those of the mutineers remaining alive after the British troops had surrounded them were under arrest.

A serious aspect of the situation from the British viewpoint was that these troops who mutinied are real Soudanese and not Egyptian, indicating there is dissatisfaction among the former as well as the latter.

Between 100 and 200 black Soudanese troops belonging to the Eleventh battalion were involved.

Under orders from the British high command the native officers had been removed. Resentful of this, the blacks organized their hopeless revolt.

The military hospital at Khartoum is on the bank of the Nile almost in the center of the city. The Soudanese directed their attack on the building and cut down three doctors who opposed them. One of the victims was British and two Syrian. Overpowered and murdered by the fanatical blacks, they had no chance.

Then the Soudanese ran amuck in the streets. A handful of British troops went to the attack. A fierce running fight ensued.

As soon as the British troops in Khartoum were engaged they brought up machine guns and threw barricades across the streets, pouring repeated volleys into the badly organized ranks of the native mutineers.

The latter, many of whom may have had the blood of the dervishes who fought Kitchener in their veins, battled frantically. Repeatedly they hurled themselves in little groups against the spitting, crackling noses of the Lewis guns that mowed them down.

The British outnumbered them and were being reinforced every minute. Some Soudanese under British orders helped attack the mutineers.

Some of the Soudanese, after their losses had become terrific in the street fighting, barricaded themselves in the hospital, which was then surrounded by the British.

The British losses were not announced in the brief dispatches that have leaked through from Khartoum. Cairo remained reasonably quiet.

LUNCH ROOM ROBBED OF $6,000 IN MILL CITY

THREE PATROLMEN FIRE INEFFECTIVELY AT THE FOUR BANDITS

ROBBERS FLED TO ST. PAUL WHERE TRAIL WAS LOST

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, Nov. 29.—With three patrolmen firing at them, four bandits escaped with between $6,000 and $7,000 in a holiday shopping crowd here today.

They held up the San Alexander lunch room and check cashing bureau.

As the bandits came out of the lunch room door they met Patrolman Earl Johnson. When Johnson tried to draw his gun one of the bandits fired at him and the bullet was stopped by a watch in his pocket. Johnson staggered back and the bandits fired two more shots at him as they leaped into an automobile. Two other patrolmen ran to the scene and joined in the gun battle, which continued while pedestrians ducked for cover. The bandits fled toward St. Paul and the trail was lost.

Grand Jury Released

Faribault, Minn., Nov. 29.—Judge

Brainerd's Reputation Is Saved; Editor Begs Forgiveness for Branding City "Churchless"

E. E. Plummer of Chicago, managing editor of the radio magazine which wounded Brainerd, Minn., and roused its 10,000 citizens to indignation, made his most contrite apologies today, and asked the city of Brainerd to forgive him.

Then he blamed it all on a press agent. For, said Mr. Plummer, the press agent, who works for a radio manufacturer in Cincinnati, thought he saw a chance to glorify his employer's radio sets by writing an article which said that a radio set owned near Brainerd brought church services to a city where never church services, sermons nor hymns were heard before—"a little town in the wilderness."

Mr. Plummer, being an eastern gentleman, didn't know the truth about Brainerd. But he sent to the Journal today a copy of an article which will appear in his magazine on December 13.

"Once upon a time Brainerd, Minn., might have been referred to as an 'isolated little city of the north woods with no churches.' But that was long, long ago—long before radio was dreamed of," the article will say. And again "A nearby government dam tender bought a radio set. He became enthusiastic and wrote its manufacturer. The manufacturer told everyone how his set had broken down the isolation of Brainerd—poor Brainerd, 'with no churches or ministers,' having only wild Indians and wolves to guide it spiritually. And so the story eventually appeared."

The article will state that Brainerd had "four railroads, plenty of paved roads, a population of well over 10,000 and a score of ministers." And that is that. — Minneapolis Journal.

ANOTHER N. W. ANGLE MYSTERY IS DISCOVERED

CHIEF OF CYCLONE ISLAND BAND OF INDIANS FOUND MURDERED

ARMS AND HEAD HAD BEEN CHOPPED OFF THE BODY

(By United Press)
Warroad, Minn., Nov. 29.—Another Northwest Angle mystery was solved today when a foot traveller from that section brought word that the body of Joe Penasse, former chief of the Cyclone Island band of Indians, was found on the shore of Falcon island a few miles from his home. He had been foully murdered.

Last year when an election was held in the Indian band Tom Penasse worked smooth politics among the young bucks, and succeeded in being elected chief over his aged father. This caused enmity between father and son, and the elder Indian, taking his defeat to heart, disappeared a short time afterward. This caused anxiety among the older Indians and his son Tom was accused of being a party to the disappearance of old Chief Joe.

Young Chief Tom explained that his father had picked up some of his clothes and traps and started out to trap muskrats. This caused a lull in the matter for a time, but as the old Indian chief failed to return in the early summer inquiries began again. At this time the son informed his tribe that he had word from his father that he had gone to Cass Lake Indian reservation. This explanation was accepted and things quieted down for a time.

When the body was found both arms and the head had been chopped off and the body was otherwise mutilated.

The matter was at once reported to the Canadian Indian agency and an investigation is now under way.

Cyclone Island is just over the boundary line in Canada from what is known as the Northwest Angle country of Minnesota.

Fred W. Senn received the grand jury report yesterday and released it today.

While the report said there was insufficient evidence to warrant an indictment at this time, the jury requested further information concerning certain contracts of the 1923 highway program and suggested that the public examiner make a recheck of the figures.

(By United Press)
Washington, Nov. 29.—No legislation of vital importance now pending in Congress will be disposed of in the coming session, Senator Joseph T. Robinson, democratic leader, announced in a statement upon his return here today.

Farm relief legislation, including co-operative marketing and the transportation act, relating to the adjustment of labor disputes rate-making and freight schedules, will be considered, "but it is doubtful if any of it will be brought to a conclusion," Robinson said.

"It is incumbent on the majority to formulate legislative program and the democrats will not assume the initiative unless some public necessity requires."

BANDITS WRECK BANK WITH 18 DYNAMITE BLASTS

UNABLE, HOWEVER, TO OBTAIN ENTRANCE TO BANK SAFE

ESCAPED FROM LAFAYETTE, MINN., WITHOUT ANY LOOT

(By United Press)
LaFayette, Minn., Nov. 29.—Bandits wrecked the Farmers State bank here early today with eighteen blasts, blew off four doors of the safe, which contained between $8,000 and $9,000 but could not get the fifth layer out and escaped without any loot early today.

The bandits entered town last night at about 11 o'clock and parked their car across the street.

At 1:50 a. m. they entered a window in the rear of the bank and opened the back door. Two of the bandits remained outside and kept Henry Johnson, cashier, his assistants and the telephone operator inside of buildings.

The first blast blew the vault door through the front bay window. Another wrecked the front of the building, office fixtures, walls and ceiling of the bank, causing damage estimated at $3,500 by T. F. Bergquist, president of the bank.

The bandits left at 3:45 a. m. and headed north without any of the money in the safe and other securities. They were apparently scared away by two shots fired at one of the bandits by Frank Peterson, who lives nearby. None of the shots took effect.

The bank was robbed of $10,000 December 15, 1922. The bank was started in 1910.

FAHY GETS 25 YEARS IN FEDERAL PRISON

PAST ACE OF POSTAL INSPECTORS IS SENTENCED TODAY

FOUND GUILTY OF PLOTTING $2,000,000 MAIL ROBBERY

(By United Press)
Chicago, Nov. 29.—William J. Fahy, ace of postal inspectors, today was sentenced to 25 years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., by Judge Adam C. Cliffe in federal court here for plotting the $2,000,000 robbery of a Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul mail train at Rondout, Ill., June 12.

James Murray, Chicago politician, was given a similar sentence. The pair was convicted by a jury Tuesday on testimony of the robbers and Fahy's associate inspectors. Walter McComb, Murray's lieutenant, charged jointly with them in the conspiracy, was acquitted.

Robert R. Levy, United States marshal, announced transfer of Fahy and Murray to their banishment will be deferred until Monday, when the confessed bandits, who carried out the robbery on information supplied by Fahy, will be sentenced.

Those facing sentence Monday are Brent Glasscock, Chicago, formerly of Kansas City, director of the looting, Herbert Holiday, Kansas City, and Joe, Jesse, Willie and Wylie Newton of Dallas, Tex. The party of prisoners will be transferred in a private special car now held in readiness here for the trip.

Of the $2,000,000 loot obtained, more than $1,600,000 has been recovered by inspectors. It is estimated that between $50,000 and $100,000 was disposed of by the gang before their arrest and the remainder has been hidden by Murray.

Smoot declared he would withhold his resolution for a flat 25 per cent reduction at this session of congress and stated that all Republican leaders were in accord on a plan to wait until late in 1925.

If the treasury surplus on June 30 warrants it, an extra session of congress may be called in September to undertake downward revision of taxes, but nothing can be done before June 30, Smoot said.

CHANGE WAS MADE AT HIS OWN REQUEST, S. B. QVALE ASSERTS

St. Paul, Nov. 29.—J. P. Brandt yesterday was removed as chief of the federal prohibition forces in St. Paul and transferred to Minneapolis.

Coincidentally preparations were being made by the office of the United States district attorney for prosecution of Mr. Brandt on a charge of assault, and by William J. Quinn, attorney, for filing of a $25,000 damage suit.

Mr. Brandt's transfer has nothing to do with the alleged assault on Mr. Quinn, S. B. Qvale, prohibition director, Minneapolis, said.

The new chief of the St. Paul office will be John J. Stone, now Duluth prohibition agent.

Following a conference today between Mr. Quinn and William Anderson, assistant district attorney, Mr. Anderson said his office "was looking up the law in the case, and if found applicable, would issue a warrant for the arrest of Mr. Brandt."

The alleged assault occurred last Tuesday in federal court.

Mr. Quinn was appearing as attorney for "Bobbie" Ward and Chas. Ring, charged by federal agents with operating a moonshine establishment at 19 W. 9th st.

HARDINGS UNITED IN SPIRIT WORLD, SAYS A. C. DOYLE

(By United Press)
London, Nov. 29.—The late President Warren G. Harding and his wife, Florence Kling Harding, undoubtedly are united in the spirit world, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, distinguished British author and spiritualist, creator of Sherlock Holmes, declared today in an exclusive interview.

"I think there is no doubt that the late president called out to his wife while she was still on earth and actually summoned her to him and that she went," Sir Arthur said.

He added that several American presidents have been susceptible to psychic influences and it is conceivable that they are watching earthly affairs.

Sir Arthur cited the case of Abraham Lincoln.

"There is no doubt in Lincoln's case," the author-spiritualist said, "that is a historical fact."

"It should be recognized that psychic messages relayed to Lincoln were largely instrumental in winning the Civil war."

Conan Doyle is convinced that not only is there survival after "death" but that "vigorous, vital personalities like Lord Northcliffe" may be able to achieve and in some cases actually have achieved communication with this earth.

SNELLING SOLDIER TO GET SENTENCE DEC. 1 FOR FRAUD

Eau Claire, Wis., Nov. 29.—Thos. Bronson, 24, Ft. Snelling soldier who is in the county jail here, will be sentenced Dec. 1 by Judge Henry McBain on a charge of passing worthless checks, Judge McBain indicated today.

Bronson, whose home is in St. Paul, pleaded guilty on several counts when he was arraigned. He was apprehended in Rockford, Ill., after having purchased jewelry, clothes and furniture from local merchants for his bride of a few days, formerly Miss Gunderlin Mattison, Rice Lake, Wis., offering in payment checks on St. Paul bank where he had no funds.

FURTHER TAX REDUCTION TO COME LATER

(By United Press)
Washington, Nov. 29.—Further tax reduction will not be attempted until late next year, Chairman Smoot of the Senate finance committee announced today.

Smoot declared he would withhold his resolution for a flat 25 per cent reduction at this session of congress and stated that all Republican leaders were in accord on a plan to wait until late in 1925.

If the treasury surplus on June 30 warrants it, an extra session of congress may be called in September to undertake downward revision of taxes, but nothing can be done before June 30, Smoot said.

(By United Press)
New York, Nov. 29.—The giant Cunarder Berengaria which sailed Wednesday for Southampton, sped today to the assistance of the Italian steamer Castle Porziana, which is in distress in mid-Atlantic, according to wireless messages received here.

The Italian steamship is a freighter with 60 men aboard. She sent out distress signals last evening. The position given was 1400 miles from Sandy Hook.

The British Miami & Casullick liner Martha Washington was other large vessels which went on the errand of mercy to the stricken freighter.

J. P. BRANDT, DRY CHIEF, REMOVED TO MINNEAPOLIS

TRANSFER FOLLOWS ALTERCATION IN COURT WITH ATTY. QUINN

CHANGE WAS MADE AT HIS OWN REQUEST, S. B. QVALE ASSERTS

St. Paul, Nov. 29.—J. P. Brandt yesterday was removed as chief of the federal prohibition force in St. Paul and transferred to Minneapolis.

Coincidentally preparations were being made by the office of the United States district attorney for prosecution of Mr. Brandt on a charge of assault, and by William J. Quinn, attorney, for filing of a $25,000 damage suit.

Mr. Brandt's transfer has nothing to do with the alleged assault on Mr. Quinn, S. B. Qvale, prohibition director, Minneapolis, said.

The new chief of the St. Paul office will be John J. Stone, now Duluth prohibition agent.

Following a conference today between Mr. Quinn and William Anderson, assistant district attorney, Mr. Anderson said his office "was looking up the law in the case, and if found applicable, would issue a warrant for the arrest of Mr. Brandt."

The alleged assault occurred last Tuesday in federal court. Mr. Quinn was appearing as attorney for "Bobbie" Ward and Chas. Ring, charged by federal agents with operating a moonshine establishment at 19 W. 9th st. According to Mr. Quinn Mr. Brandt became enraged, striking him twice, and pushing him over two chairs. "Mr. Brandt has for some time

AWAITS ORDERS TO RE-OPEN THE TONG WARFARE

CHINESE SECTIONS OF MANY LARGE CITIES AFLAME WITH PASSION

SHOOTINGS IN NEW YORK LAST NIGHT RESULT IN SEVERAL FATALITIES

(By United Press)
New York, Nov. 29.—Seventy-five Chinese gunmen, imported from the west coast, today awaited orders to attack as new murders and shooting put an end to the temporary truce in the tong war which has broken out in every Chinese section of the larger cities.

Tom Hong, a member of the Hip Sings, died today from wounds received last evening.

Gong Sing, On Leong tongman, is in a hospital with five shots through his body. He is not expected to live.

The shootings occurred last night and followed closely the murder of Hok Hun and Gog Ching Foo yesterday, which broke the truce.

The gunmen were imported by the Hag Sings, according to Sing Noy, secretary of the On Leongs.

Swears Vengeance On His Attackers.

Minneapolis, Nov. 29.—Although declared to have little chance of recovery by physicians in General hospital today, Frey Wonglung, Chinese, wounded here Thursday night, believes he will recover and has sworn vengeance upon his attackers.

Wonglung says the shot was meant for his employer, Moy, who has a laundry here. The shooting took place in Moy's laundry.

Wonglung is suffering from a bullet wound in the neck which doctors says will prove fatal.

He believes he was a victim of the tong war, although he is not a member of either of the warring factions.

HARDINGS UNITED IN SPIRIT WORLD, SAYS A. C. DOYLE

(By United Press)
London, Nov. 29.—The late President Warren G. Harding and his wife, Florence Kling Harding, undoubtedly are united in the spirit world, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, distinguished British author and spiritualist, creator of Sherlock Holmes, declared today in an exclusive interview.

"I think there is no doubt that the late president called out to his wife while she was still on earth and actually summoned her to him and that she went," Sir Arthur said.

He added that several American presidents have been susceptible to psychic influences and it is conceivable that they are watching earthly affairs.

Sir Arthur cited the case of Abraham Lincoln.

"There is no doubt in Lincoln's case," the author-spiritualist said, "that is a historical fact."

"It should be recognized that psychic messages relayed to Lincoln were largely instrumental in winning the Civil war."

Conan Doyle is convinced that not only is there survival after "death" but that "vigorous, vital personalities like Lord Northcliffe" may be able to achieve and in some cases actually have achieved communication with this earth.

been overworked," Mr. Qvale said. "He has carried on the work in St. Paul very actively, and has for some time been anxious to be transferred. He has asked for a transfer several times during the last month."

Mr. Quinn expressed a determination to "go through with the matter."

MILFORD MINE OWNERS CLEARED

OPERATORS AND CROW WING COUNTY INSPECTOR EX-ONERATED

Officials of the Milford mine near Crosby, Minn., and the Crow Wing county mine inspector have been exonerated of any negligence in connection with the mine disaster on February 5, 1924; according to a report filed by a commission Friday with Governor Preus. The commission was appointed by Governor Preus last February to investigate the mine disaster.

The Milford mine, which is located in Crow Wing county three miles north of the village of Crosby, was being worked under a marsh and without any apparent warning, the roof of the workings caved in, letting in a rush of water and entrapped 47 of the workers. All but six succumbed.

The commission included the following members: W. E. McEwen, Duluth, chairman; Ed. Smith, Eveleth; Dwight E. Woodbridge, Duluth; J. Wilbur Van Evera, Crosby, and R. R. Bailey of Virginia.

The commission also in its report recommends legislation which should make more stringent and more effective its mine inspection laws and also the establishment of a mine inspection commission.

It further recommends that the legislature make an appropriation of $5,000 a year to enable this mine inspection commission to conduct educational work in safety among the miners of the state.

The commission also recommends that the county board of St. Louis, Itasca and Crow Wing counties provide a nominal contingent fund to be used by mine inspectors to attend mine safety conferences.—Minneapolis Tribune.

Hanging a Portrait DRUGS EXCITE THE KIDNEYS, DRINK WATER

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

POOR ADVERTISING

DUE to the Radio Digest which published a misinformed article on the lack of churches, ministers, missionaries, church music, etc., in Brainerd, this city has gained a lot of poor advertising. It is with a deep sense of gratitude that the Dispatch received the stories of St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, Little Falls and Bemidji papers which strove to correct the injustice done Brainerd and to set the world right as to the religious, industrial and moral advantages of our community.

It is so much easier to "knock" any city, community or business than to spread the truth about our advantages. Many an out of state city is like some busybody, ready to believe the worst and anxious to spread the story.

And in the newspaper and magazine field the rule is generally to be cautious about publishing without at least verifying matters. No press association prints an unusual happening without investigation and substantiation.

Close at hand to the editor's desk should be an American newspaper manual which would give the editor of the Radio Digest enough information to convince him that Brainerd is not a churchless community.

In the same way the Cincinnati minister should obtain a church directory of his denomination so that he may be informed of the fact that Brainerd has had a Presbyterian church for over a quarter century. He should be as fully informed of the churches of his denomination as of the missionary work.

On all hands are sources of information open to any one who takes the trouble to look which would quickly check in their incipency any such wild tales as have been circulated about Brainerd, that it is a churchless desert in a deep snow, tall pine wilderness.

TOLERANCE IS NEEDED

TOLERANCE and understanding are essential in the situation here outlined by Col. E. Hofer of Oregon.

The emphatic "No" vote cast by the American people in the last election is a remarkable expression on their part against any proposition seeking to undermine the strength of national and state constitutions or to restrict the right to individual initiative and enterprise.

The United States still remains the great champion of private development of industry under fair and reasonable public regulation as contrasted with paternalistic forms of government which seek to kill incentive and ambition.

The fact that some 5,000,000 men and women voted for a radical program in the past election shows the necessity for a spirit of toleration and understanding by the people of this nation who believe in a more conservative policy.

The conservative side will maintain its position of supremacy just so long as it, through intelligent action, recognizes the opinion of others and defeats unsound policies, not by the ruthless hand of power, but by explanation, argument and teaching which finally removes misunderstanding and opposition. The forces of progress move forward in a safe and orderly manner in this nation.

WILL POETRY THRIVE?

THE world of letters in America awaits with interest the results of the work of the University of Michigan which has created a fellowship of letters and offered it to Robert Frost, one of the nation's most prominent poets.

The author of "New Hampshire" is resigning the chair of English literature at Amherst, where he had classes regularly and delivered lectures, to take up a position which gives him full freedom to write and call for no teaching duties.

All his living expenses are paid by the University of Michigan and this relieves him of all economic worries. Now comes the test. Will he produce better poetry or literature without the spur of necessity or will he wax fat and grow careless of the muse when living in a field of plenty? Will he have a different outlook, different experiences, will he continue to remain close to the people? Can Art be endowed?

AN ODD COINCIDENCE

AN odd coincidence has happened in regard to the controversy over alleged lack of religion in Brainerd. Rev. Frederick N. McMillan, pastor of Walnut Hills First Presbyterian church, Cincinnati, credited by the Radio Digest with "ending the religious famine" in Brainerd by the sermons he is radio-casting, was a classmate in university of Rev. A. G. Patterson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Brainerd.

THE motor vehicle is no longer looked upon as a luxury or as a mere pleasure car, says the Ada Index. It has become a necessity. The pleasure that the farmer gets from his automobile is very small in comparison with the service it renders him in his business. More than 30 per cent of the cars in this community, about one-third of the total number, are owned by farmers.

CHICAGO stockyards use every part of the pig except the squeal and Cloquet has advanced in about the same measure using waste products of its lumbermills. As stated by F. G. Orr everything is used to good purpose with the exception of the whisper of the leaves.

TWENTY-NINE canneries of Minnesota last season packed nearly 2,000,000 cases of corn, peas, string beans, pork and beans, tomatoes, sauer kraut and pickles.

"BIRCH AND BENCH" is the name of Cass Lake High School's weekly official organ. It is published in the Cass Lake Times.

THE Pequot village council has bought a six-acre tract from John Hagen on Sibley lake, to be used as a tourist camp.

CLOVER seed is bringing farmers in Minnesota returns running from $45 to $90 per acre.

WHY I TRADE IN BRAINERD

Editor "Why I Trade in Brainerd"

Essay Contest:

I believe it the duty of every loyal citizen of a community to trade at home but there are cases when some people of our city have purchased their household goods in larger cities. We have some of the best merchants to be found anywhere but merchants should also patronize each other in order to form good generalship.

The Northern Pacific is Brainerd's capital source of income and we should patronize the source which does the most to build and maintain a community. The business section of a city is the barometer of prosperity and the key to civic improvements.

ERNEST O. JEPSON,
318 10th St. N.

I trade in Brainerd because I wish to have the city in which I live become beautiful. The goods I buy here I can see and tell what they are like. For money sent away never comes back. We live in Brainerd to patronize it.

The people who boast Brainerd will always feel that they were honest and if some day they would want to start in business, they too, will want the people to buy of them.

CATHERINE VADNAIS,
906 Fifth Street.

I trade in Brainerd because it is the town in which I live and it is my duty as a good citizen to help support the city through the merchants.

I know that the various articles which I buy are as good as any that can be had in any of the larger cities.

If Brainerd is good enough for me to live in and afford me employment, I would consider it very improper to trade elsewhere, furthermore, I should do my share in helping to build up a larger city out of Brainerd.

MISS DELLA BOHMANN,
709 1/2 S. Broadway.

It is my duty to my city, my fellow citizens and to myself. It creates better understanding and confidence among the citizens.

And by telling your friends of bargains and quality of merchandise bought at home it helps to do away with sending for the goods and be disappointed in quality you receive. The merchants will strive to make their stock more perfect and please the public and will decide this is a good city to make your home which materially means a more beautiful city.

Let the pass-word be "Trade in Brainerd" and get satisfaction.

HAZEL HOLSAPPLE,
Rt. 1, Brainerd, Minn.

I trade in Brainerd because every merchant is a personal friend, who gives advice dependable.

Merchants advertising in local papers save me time, energy, money and promote out-of-town trade.

My purchases are delivered in the city.

Farm produce is exchanged for its equivalent.

Merchants always donate to every just cause.

Credit may be secured.

I possess purchases at once, not days later when delivered by the mail carrier.

Home trading circulates money in Brainerd.

All above advantages are lost by outside buying, so

Come friends and neighbors,

Don't trade by mail.

Then Brainerd merchants

Will never fail.

INTEREST RATES
Commencing January 1, 1925

The continued low rates of interest, with no prospect of an early change, on high grade outside securities which are readily convertible into cash at any time, and which constitute a large percentage of the loans of our depositors' money as well as our own, and the further reduction of interest rates paid us on deposits with our City correspondents makes it necessary for us to again slightly reduce our interest rates, commencing January 1st, 1925, at which time we will pay the following rates:

Time Certificates, six or twelve months.....3%
Savings Accounts.....3%

The interest rate of three per cent on Savings Deposit balances as of December 31st, 1924, will become effective January 1st, 1925.

We hope that at no distant date the outside interest rates will return to a sufficiently normal basis so that it may be possible for us to make some increase to our depositors.

POOR ADVERTISING

DUE to the Radio Digest which published a misinformed article on the lack of churches, ministers, missionaries, church music, etc., in Brainerd, this city has gained a lot of poor advertising. It is with a deep sense of gratitude that the Dispatch received the stories of St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, Little Falls and Bemidji papers which strove to correct the injustice done Brainerd and to set the world right as to the religious, industrial and moral advantages of our community.

It is so much easier to "knock" any city, community or business than to spread the truth about our advantages. Many an out of state city is like some busybody, ready to believe the worst and anxious to spread the story.

And in the newspaper and magazine field the rule is generally to be cautious about publishing without at least verifying matters. No press association prints an unusual happening without investigation and substantiation.

Close at hand to the editor's desk should be an American newspaper manual which would give the editor of the Radio Digest enough information to convince him that Brainerd is not a churchless community.

In the same way the Cincinnati minister should obtain a church directory of his denomination so that he may be informed of the fact that Brainerd has had a Presbyterian church for over a quarter century. He should be as fully informed of the churches of his denomination as of the missionary work.

On all hands are sources of information open to any one who takes the trouble to look which would quickly check in their incipency any such wild tales as have been circulated about Brainerd, that it is a churchless desert in a deep snow, tall pine wilderness.

WOMAN WHO ISN'T VAIN IS NOT INTERESTING

FAIR HEDDA HOYT TAKES UP
LONG WOOLEN UNDER-
WEAR

SAYS IT'S HARD TO DESCRIBE
1924 MODEL OF SUCH
KIND

By HEDDA HOYT
(Fashion Editor of the United Press)
(Written for the United Press)
New York, N. Y., Nov. 28.—

Dear Miss Hoyt:

In reading your previous articles I notice that you give special mention to the "ermine, pearls and fads" of life. "Ermine trimmed with chin-chilla is smart for evening wear" you say. You also mention "those lovely little blonde satin slippers," "huge pearl chokers" and "little wisps of silk lace handkerchiefs, dyed to match the shade of the frock."

Are there no women left who use old-fashioned white lawn handkerchiefs in these days of influenza and grippe? And can all women afford ermine fur and evening slippers? Some of us still believe that handkerchiefs should be made of material which makes it usable for its original purpose and we can't all wear ermine, although we do ride around in Ford touring cars. We are so old-fashioned that we wear ribbed underwear with legs and sleeves! Why do fashion writers never write of these essential things in life?

Sincerely,

MRS. HELEN N. W.
Freeport, Ill.

Well, Helen! I can call you that, can't I, now that we are getting down to the ribbed underwear understanding? Of course there are women who can't afford ermine and there are thousands of women who wear the same shoe, morning, noon and night, until it is worn thread-bare, but don't you believe for a second that these women aren't interested in reading about what fashionable women wear.

There are hundreds of readers who will wear white rabbit fur when they know that ermine is the style and hundreds more who will wear wraps of that fuzzy white cloth that looks like fur and they will get away with it, too, in their home towns.

There may be some women who don't give a rap about fashions, but these women are in the minority in America. If one were to write for them, one might say that long woollen underwear is still being worn, but one couldn't for the life of one describe the 1924 model in these long-legged affairs as they are the same from year to year. One might add that red flannels are out of style and that the flapper of 1924 prefers white ones, but we all know that red flannel is as passe as last week's bar of soap and that flappers would rather die than suffer the martyrdom of wearing itchy flannels, whether white or red.

It's the desserts of life which most people are interested in. We don't want to know how to cook corn beef and cabbage, but how to make a cup of custard look like a gorgeous dish by decorating it with a red cherry, a few blanched almonds and a dash of whipped cream.

Have you ever been real hungry? And yet when you sat down to a dinner of boiled potatoes and ham hocks, you sort of lost your appetite? Well, if you had been reading about lovely, luscious cooking, before sitting down to the hardtack of life, you'd have found that these simple nutritious foods would have tasted better as you would have acquired an appetite for them.

It's the same way about clothes. When we read of frivolous laces and lovely underthings we feel just like stringing new ribbons in our worn-out outing-flannels—don't we? We can read of a lovely costume without wanting to brush up the old serge? Most of us are practical. We all carry white handkerchiefs when we need them, but a "little lack handky dyed to match the frock" doesn't cost much and it does a lot for one's morale to own one of them, if only to carry it to church on Sunday.

As for the "blonde shoes," there are lots of women in the in-between class who will take advantage of the fact that these tannish slippers are in style and they will dig up a discarded pair of satin slippers and tintex them this new shade and feel grand and glorious. Surely this is no extravagance!

No doubt you feel that the wearing of an artificial flower on the coat lapel is all fiddle-sticks and nonsense, but have you seen the flowers in the ten-cent stores lately? Most of us

Elinor Glyn Defends Her "Three Weeks"

Elinor Glyn makes an interesting reply to those critics who have attacked her novel, "Three Weeks," the film version of which will be presented by Goldwyn at the New Park on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Mme. Glyn states:

CHARLIE CHAPLIN
MARRIES SPANISH
MAID, LITA GREY

(By United Press)

Hollywood, Calif., Nov. 26.—Chas. Spencer Chaplin, English screen comedian and his Spanish bride, Lita Grey, married quietly in a seaport town of old Mexico, were due back on American soil today and all Hollywood awaited their return.

Speeding north in a special car attached to a train which left Guaymas, Sonora, last night, the party is en route home, convinced there is no place a couple can go to be married in secret if the world is interested.

The special car "Sonora," in which the famous screen fun-maker and his 18-year old bride are returning home brings also Mrs. Lillian Spicer, mother, and Mrs. Louise Curry, mother of the new Mrs. Chaplin.

All of Charlie's former sweethearts joined today in wishing him happiness. Down the list from Mildred Harris, who was Mrs. Chaplin for a few years, on to May Collins, Lila Lee, Claire Windsor and Pola Negri, each expressed hope that the playboy had found happiness at last.

"Wine of Youth" Boasts Eight Leading Men and Two Heroines

King Vidor's Metro-Goldwyn production, "Wine of Youth," which opens a two-day engagement at the Lyceum Theatre Sunday, boasts what is possibly the most unusual cast of any motion picture.

The players include eight popular young screen leading men, any one of whom would suffice an ordinary picture.

Six of these heroes make love to one of the heroines, which seems rather unfair, but it is necessary for the needs of the story.

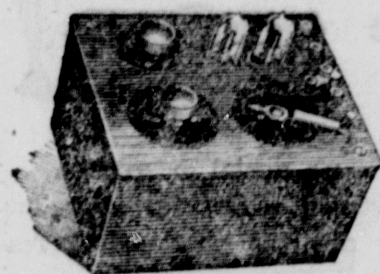

The leading men are Ben Lyon, William Collier, Jr., Bobby Agnew, William Haines, Creighton Hale, Niles Welch, Johnnie Walker, James Morrison.

The heroines are Eleanor Boardman and Pauline Garon.

WOMAN WHO ISN'T VAIN IS NOT INTERESTING

FAIR HEDDA HOYT TAKES UP
LONG WOOLEN UNDER-
WEAR

SAYS IT'S HARD TO DESCRIBE
1924 MODEL OF SUCH
KIND

By HEDDA HOYT
(Fashion Editor of the United Press)
(Written for the United Press)
New York, N. Y., Nov. 28.—

Dear Miss Hoyt:

In reading your previous articles I notice that you give special mention to the "ermine, pearls and fads" of life. "Ermine trimmed with chin-chilla is smart for evening wear" you say. You also mention "those lovely little blonde satin slippers," "huge pearl chokers" and "little wisps" of silk lace handkerchiefs, dyed to match the shade of the frock."

Are there no women left who use old-fashioned white lawn handkerchiefs in these days of influenza and grippe? And can all woman afford ermine fur and evening slippers? Some of us still believe that handkerchiefs should be made of material which makes it usable for its original purpose and we can't all wear ermine, although we do ride around in Ford touring cars. We are so old-fashioned that we wear ribbed underwear with legs and sleeves! Why do fashion writers never write of these essential things in life?

Sincerely,
MRS. HELEN N. W.—
Freeport, Ill.

Well, Helen! I can call you that, can't I, now that we are getting down to the ribbed underwear understanding? Of course there are women who can't afford ermine and there are thousands of women who wear the same shoe, morning, noon and night, until it is worn thread-bare, but don't you believe for a second that these women aren't interested in reading about what fashionable women wear.

There are hundreds of readers who will wear white rabbit fur when they know that ermine is the style and hundreds more who will wear wraps of that fuzzy white cloth that looks like fur and they will get away with it, too, in their home towns.

There may be some women who don't give a rap about fashions, but these women are in the minority in America. If one were to write for them, one might say that long woollen underwear is still being worn, but one couldn't for the life of one describe the 1924 model in these long-legged affairs as they are the same from year to year. One might add that red flannels are out of style and that the flapper of 1924 prefers white ones, but we all know that red flannel is as passe as last week's bar of soap and that flappers would rather die than suffer the martyrdom of wearing itchy flannels, whether white or red.

It's the desserts of life which most people are interested in. We don't want to know how to cook corn beef and cabbage, but how to make a cup of custard look like a gorgeous dish by decorating it with a red cherry, a few blanched almonds and a dash of whipped cream.

Have you ever been real hungry? And yet when you sat down to a dinner of boiled potatoes and ham hocks, you sort of lost your appetite? Well, if you had been reading about lovely, luscious cooking, before sitting down to the hardtack of life, you'd have found that these simple nutritious foods would have tasted better as you would have acquired an appetite for them.

It's the same way about clothes. When we read of frivolous laces and lovely underthings we feel just like stringing new ribbons in our worn-out outing-flannels—don't we? We can read of a lovely costume without wanting to brush up the old serge? Most of us are practical. We all carry white handkerchiefs when we need them, but a "little lack handky dyed to match the frock" doesn't cost much and it does a lot for one's morale to own one of them, if only to carry it to church on Sunday.

As for the "blonde shoes," there are lots of women in the in-between class who will take advantage of the fact that these tannish slippers are in style and they will dig up a discarded pair of satin slippers and tincture them this new shade and feel grand and glorious. Surely this is no extravagance!

No doubt you feel that the wearing of an artificial flower on the coat lapel is all fiddle-sticks and nonsense, but have you seen the flowers in the ten-cent stores lately? Most of us would rather do without our dish of ice cream than our buttonhole.

The woman who isn't vain isn't interesting. It takes vanity to make one attractive. Unless we hope to be attractive and try to be so, we will fail to impress ourselves on others. The woman who doesn't care enough about herself to take the shine off her nose is a disgrace to the community in which she lives. She may wear ribbed undies, use muslin kerchiefs and wear sensible shoes and be as practical as she wishes, but if she doesn't care enough about styles to counteract her practical side by yielding to some of the fads of life, she's entirely out of gear with the modern woman. Nothing in life remains at a standstill. It's the person who tries to keep up with the times who gets the most out of life.

I like the spirit of the old man who said, "If I can't own a car, I'll own a motorcycle and if I can't own a motorcycle I'll own a bicycle and if I can't own a bicycle, I'll walk, by Henry. I'll get some place and not stay put."

Elinor Glyn Defends Her "Three Weeks"

Elinor Glyn makes an interesting reply to those critics who have attacked her novel, "Three Weeks," the film version of which will be presented by Gaiety at the New Park on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Mme. Glyn states:

"I have often been condemned as an immoral writer. Now this is not American justice. I challenge anyone carefully to read every word of

"Three Weeks" with an open mind, not with the determined idea to search for sensualities, and then see if he can find a single sentence taken with its context and meaning, which can degrade—a single place where the Lady's words were not to elevate Paul's brain, and his soul, and turn him, as they did into a thinking, responsible being of use to his country."

CHARLIE CHAPLIN MARRIES SPANISH MAID, LITA GREY

(By United Press)
Hollywood, Calif., Nov. 26.—Chas. Spencer Chaplin, English screen comedian and his Spanish bride, Lita Grey, married quietly in a seaport town of old Mexico, were due back on American soil today and all Hollywood awaited their return.

Speeding north in a special car attached to a train which left Guaymas, Sonora, last night, the party is en route home, convinced there is no place a couple can go to be married in secret if the world is interested.

The special car "Sonora," in which the famous screen fun-maker and his 18-year old bride are returning home brings also Mrs. Lillian Spicer, mother, and Mrs. Louise Curry, mother of the new Mrs. Chaplin.

All of Charlie's former sweethearts joined today in wishing him happiness. Down the list from Mildred Harris, who was Mrs. Chaplin for a few years, on to May Collins, Lila Lee, Claire Windsor and Pola Negri, each expressed hope that the playboy had found happiness at last.

165 CANS OF TROUT FRY PLANTED

Efforts of State Game Warden D. A. Peterson Bring Large Shipment to Brainerd

NEARBY STREAMS STOCKED

Crow Wing Game Protective Club Supervises Distribution of the Trout Fry

Through the concerted efforts of State Game Warden D. A. Peterson, formerly of Brainerd, the Glenwood fish car brought 165 cans of trout to this city on Friday afternoon for distribution to streams in this vicinity. Mr. Peterson appreciates the co-operation given the state department by the Crow Wing Game Protective club, and in return took special pains to see that the club received a full carload of trout fry, something quite unusual for one community.

This consignment consisted of 165 cans of trout fry, all fingerlings, of which 45 cans were brook trout and 120 Loch Leven trout. Of the former variety there were 100 fry to the can and of Loch Leven 150 trout to the can.

A. A. Weideman, president of the Crow Wing Game Protective club, and Deputy Game Warden A. P. Cardle had a big crew of men and a fleet of trucks on hand when the "Glenwood" fish car arrived, and the trout were distributed to the various streams as follows:

Spring Brook, Outing, 4 cans, taken by Merton Congdon and Frank Titus; Pollywog Brook, Emily, 15 cans, taken by Ami Shanks and E. M. Vaars; to brooks feeding Round lake south, 5 cans, and to Buffalo creek, 5 cans, taken by P. H. Rardin; to Sand creek, 7 cans, taken by A. W. Gronquist and Hass brothers.

Twenty cans were taken to Stony Brook and 32 cans to Home Brook by Anderson brothers of Rocky Point. The Breezy Point truck carried 21 cans to streams tributary to Cullen lake. Walter Frampton took 18 cans to Kramp creek. Ed Anderson, Arthur Johnson and Ben Swartz took thirty cans to Cory brook, and the balance of three cans went to Whiteley creek.

It is seldom that trout fry as large as those in this shipment are sent out to stock streams and local sportsmen feel very fortunate in getting them.

CARBON MONOXIDE POISONING IN SMALL GARAGES

The newspapers recently carried a news item of the death from carbon monoxide poisoning, of a prominent Baltimore man, who was found dead in his garage with the engine of his automobile still running. With the onset of cold weather such accidents will probably increase in frequency, says the Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service, who warns automobile owners of the danger involved in running a gasoline engine in a small closed space for any considerable length of time.

In tests of the exhaust of a small 23 horsepower automobile engine it has been found that it discharged approximately 25 cubic feet of gas per minute, samples of which gave an average of 6 per cent carbon monoxide, or 1.5 cubic feet of deadly carbon monoxide gas per minute. Of course larger engines will give off more. Now a ratio of 15 parts carbon monoxide to 10,000 parts of air is considered a dangerous concentration to be exposed to for a considerable time; and the small 23 horsepower engine in "warming up" and giving off only one cubic foot of carbon monoxide per minute would contaminate the air of a small closed garage, 10 by 10 by 20 feet, to the danger point in about three minutes.

Carbon monoxide is a colorless, tasteless, and almost odorless gas. Its poisonous action depends on the fact that it has a much greater affinity for the hemoglobin of the blood than has oxygen — hemoglobin attracting carbon monoxide about 300 times as strongly as it does oxygen. By combining with carbon monoxide, the hemoglobin of the red blood corpuscles is prevented from giving up its oxygen to the tissues. Death results from paralysis of the respiratory apparatus.

The attack of carbon monoxide poisoning comes on insidiously, and consciousness is gradually lost. Even though the victim may become aware of the danger he is often unable to escape from it because of the great loss of motor power.

The automobile worker in a small garage is frequently the victim. It therefore behooves every person who runs his engine in a small garage to see to it that the room is properly ventilated by having the windows and doors opened if he expects to run the engine for even a few minutes.

OHIOAN SHORT ON GEOGRAPHY

Ignorance of Cincinnati Writer Amazes R. R. Wise of Brainerd

LATTER IS NATIVE OF OHIO

Says Radio Article Calls for Necessity of Work 10,000 Lakes Assn. is Doing

It is not surprising that Atlantic coast cities don't know much about Minnesota but for residents of Ohio to profess the same ignorance is amazing, according to R. R. Wise, president of the Ten Thousand Lakes of Minnesota association, former mayor and former member of the board of education of Brainerd and a resident of that city of 10,000 population for the past forty years.

"I happen to be a native of Ohio," said Mr. Wise who is in St. Paul today. "I read in the Pioneer Press this morning that a Cincinnati writer had referred to Brainerd as 'an isolated little city in the north woods.' His ignorance is inexcusable."

"The incident simply proves the necessity for the work which the Ten Thousand Lakes of Minnesota association is doing," went on Mr. Wise. "We are telling the world what we have done in this state."

"In the old days, when I was a boy, people on the Atlantic seaboard would make us Ohioans pretty mad by referring to territory west of the Alleghenies as wilderness. Today certain residents of Ohio are committing the same error in their ignorance of the great northwest."

"Louis Hill's slogan 'See America First' should be emblazoned on the walls of every school room in the United States. Then perhaps we can catch them young enough to teach average craniums they should consult an atlas of the country before making a statement about any city, village or town in the United States."

"Why, we have twenty-two churches in Brainerd and the Northern Pacific railroad shops with 1,300 employees and a payroll of $200,000 monthly," Mr. Wise concluded.

Mr. Wise's ire was aroused over the report of an article written by Webb G. Welbourne, which appeared recently in a radio magazine. Mr. Welbourne said he possessed letters from a man living near Brainerd, in which it was stated the only sacred music heard there came over the radio from Cincinnati and that the town was isolated from civilization. —St. Paul Dispatch.

Stanley Vanek Completes Removal of Jewelry Store to 614 Laurel Street

Stanley Vanek has completed the removal of his jewelry store from 710 Laurel street, one block west, to 614 Laurel street, where he will occupy one-half of the store room with the Anderson dry cleaners.

Mr. Vanek has been in the jewelry business for the past seventeen years in Brainerd and during that period has earned an enviable reputation as a merchant and repair man in his line.

In moving to his new location Mr. Vanek is increasing his facilities for serving the public. Additional fixtures are being installed and the stock enlarged. A new electric sign was placed today which is one that should attract considerable attention.

Mr. Vanek will carry a complete line of jewelry, silverware, watches and diamonds and is equipped to do all kinds of watch and general repairing.

The formal opening of this store will be held on Saturday, with favors for all who visit the new location. There will be flowers for the ladies and cigars for the gentlemen. Everyone is invited.

ORGANIZE NATIONAL FARM RADIO CLUB

To make radio the handmaiden of agriculture is the object of a national farm club just organized by the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation Radio Station WLS, according to an announcement by Edgar L. Bill, director of the station. The name of the club, to be selected from suggestions being submitted by its listeners, will be announced December 4, according to Mr. Bill.

"For seven months this station has been sending out programs for farm folk," Mr. Bill says, "and experience has convinced us that these programs are the most important we can put on. Radio means more to rural America than any other group and we are proceeding with our program to make WLS more than ever the farmers' station."

"At present we are devoting thirteen broadcasting hours a week to farm subjects, embracing market reports, agricultural news, weather forecasts and talks by leaders in the agricultural world on matters of vital concern to the farmer. It is to tie the various farm features of WLS together, as well as to provide a meeting place for the discussion of farm problems that the farm club idea is being formed. Every WLS farm listener is eligible to membership."

"The tremendous interest in radio was well demonstrated at the Chicago Radio Show last week. The attendance for the week was enormous and it was surprising to witness the attention given the new science by the people out in the country. A good percentage of the attendance was of people from farm and small town and gave added proof that the man in the field has had his fancy caught by radio to no lesser extent than his brother in the crowded city centers."

MORE GOOD ROADS? PEOPLE VOTED 'YES'

MIDDLE WEST STATES RANK PROGRESSIVE ON BALLOTS FOR BETTER HIGHWAYS

Good roads prospects for next year, which will depend almost entirely on new gasoline tax and perhaps motor vehicle tax laws, are being much talked hereabouts following the adoption of Amendment No. 1 to put gas taxes on highways. Discussion was stimulated also by figures printed in The Brainerd Dispatch, showing that less than a third of the average annual improvement of the last three years can be done next year without new, favorable legislation, also that every $1 of tax paid by the average car owner means $500,000 of extra good roads.

Late reports from the capitol indicate that Gas Tax Amendment No. 1 received nearly 500,000 votes yes and less than 200,000 votes no, some $7,000 more than the necessary majority of the 830,000 votes cast. Action of the next legislature fixing auto and gas tax rates, however, will decide whether the result will mean greater good roads progress in Minnesota. With the single exception of Kentucky which rejected a bond proposal, decisive good roads victories were won in other states, notably in the middle west.

Missouri topped the list of progressive states, citizens voting higher auto taxes, a gasoline tax and bond issues of $15,000,000 annually. A new $100,000,000 highway bond issue was voted in Illinois to go on with paving, which has totalled more than 2,000 miles in two years, and other road work. Texas voted a gasoline tax to speed highway improvements.

Iowa legislative plans are for a gasoline tax and $85,000,000 of bonds for 3,000 miles of paving and 3,000 miles of gravel roads. The general proposal is similar to the Minnesota good roads plan. Wisconsin farmers, through the farm bureau federation, propose to urge a gasoline tax in that state where motorists are paying about double the taxes that are collected on cars and trucks here. Nebraska is to go forward with a better highway program which will benefit tourist business in Minnesota.

All Set

The prisoner was not professionally represented. Before proceeding with the case, the judge said:

"This is a very serious offense you are charged with. If you are convicted it means a long term of imprisonment. Have you no counsel to look after your defense?"

The prisoner in the most confidential manner leaned toward the judge and replied:

"No, your honor, I have no counsel; but I have some very good friends on the jury." —Chicago Continent.

In the Final Analysis

"What do you regard as the most important question in this campaign?"

"The questions narrow down," replied Senator Sorghum, "to one compact and precise—yet elusive—problem: 'How many people are going to vote the way we tell 'em to?'" —Washington Star.

TERRORISTS TO TAKE PART IN THE GERMAN ELECTIONS

HARDEST ELEMENTS IN RED PARTY FORM SHOCK TROOP GROUP

POLICE AIM TO KEEP REDS ON THE RUN, FEARING UPRISINGS

(By United Press)

Berlin, Nov. 29.—Terror is to play a role in the German elections Dec. 7, if the communists have their way.

They have just completed organization of a big shock troop group known as the "Roter Frontkämpferbund," composed of the hardest elements in the red party. Most of the members of this organization have seen service in the trenches and many of them were formerly incorporated in the so-called "Hundert-schaften" or "Companies of one hundred" dissolved a year ago by governmental order. A subdivision of the "R. F. B." as the organization is known for short, is "Der Rote Jungsturm" or "Red Youth Storm."

The terror activity of this new organization will be directed chiefly against the new republican organization, "Reichsbanner schwarz-rot-gold," but some attention will also be paid to the fascist storm troops of Hitler and Ludendorff.

Organization of the red group is in line with open instruction of Sinowjew and others in Moscow for organization of workers' troops to be used against "the enslavement of the German proletariat through the slave chains of the Dawes regime."

The police and Reichswehr are keeping a specially sharp eye on the red organizations, fearing that they will attempt labor uprisings in Saxony, Berlin and other industrial centers. The police everywhere are under special alarm measures which require redoubled watchfulness until the campaign is over. This is also true of the Reichswehr, which in many garrisons is constructing "Spanish riders," as barbed wire entanglements have come to be known. All garrisons are now at full strength all detached groups having been recalled to home stations.

Leaders of the police and army do not exactly anticipate any putsch, as a result of the election campaign, but are known to have shaped their plans for every eventuality. Their program hence includes preparations for a possible outbreak directly after the elections on the part of some disappointed group. Since the nationalists and fascists are the most likely to suffer reverses, it is assumed that this calculation is directed against the chance of a fascist or pangerman putsch.

The fascists at the moment, however, are suffering from internal dissension. They have always been more or less discordant among themselves, but the breach now appears to be broader than ever. Big industrialists are hesitating to throw away any more money into the fascist cause and this is taking some of the fight out of the alleged fighters. At the same time, the communist coffers appear to be completely empty. Moscow, hitherto credited with pouring golden floods into the reds' treasuries in Germany, is apparently not so lavish as heretofore. Moscow, however, keeps a hand on the red movement here and gives it such direction as it has.

The reds, except for their new terror organization, are badly adrift. Their leaders are hunted and hounded by the police, who started immediately after dissolution of the Reichstag to make a clean-up of the leading red deputies, including the stormy Ruth Fischer.

This police search has succeeded so far in keeping the communist campaigners off the stump and confined solely to word of mouth campaigning in the factories and in the columns of the communist paper "Rote Fahne."

The communists are destined considerable losses to the socialists in the elections. However, they still muster a surprisingly large number of voters, despite the fact the movement itself has lost "punch," since as long ago as 1921.

Meantime, the middle parties express confidence in the outcome of the campaign. They say that the radical parties on the right and left will lose, to the advantage of the middle group.

Chicago Livestock Show Breaks All Competition Records

(By United Press)

Chicago, Nov. 29.—With all records smashed for the number of entries of individual cattle, draft horses, sheep and swine, the International Live Stock Exposition opened here today, celebrating its twenty-fifth anniversary. It will continue through December 6.

President Coolidge has accepted an invitation and will be present on Dec. 4.

A total of 5,105 animals has been entered in the individual competitions. The display of domestic stock during the first week in December will be the greatest assemblage ever brought together at any one time or place, officials stated.

"The previous high water mark was several hundred entries less than the number scheduled to appear here," B. H. Heide, secretary said.

"Cattle lead in the total number of entries, with nearly 2,100 nominations; swine come second, sheep third and horses fourth. The largest increases are in the swine and sheep departments, the Berkshire, Chester White, Tanworth, Shropshire, Cotswold and Dorset breeds showing the greatest number of exhibits. Many herds, flocks and studs make their initial bow at the International, and there are consignments of outstanding animals."

"Thirty different breeds of livestock, as well as various grades and cross-breeds are on the list of contestants. They come from practically every state and Canadian province, and many were originally imported from Scotland, England, Belgium, France, New Zealand and Australia."

Peterson, formerly of Brainerd, the Glenwood fish car brought 165 cans of trout to this city on Friday afternoon for distribution to streams in this vicinity. Mr. Peterson appreciates the co-operation given the state department by the Crow Wing Game Protective club, and in return took special pains to see that the club received a full carload of trout fry, something quite unusual for one community.

This consignment consisted of 165 cans of trout fry, all fingerlings, of which 45 cans were brook trout and 120 Loch Leven trout. Of the former variety there were 100 fry to the can and of Loch Leven 150 trout to the can.

A. A. Weideman, president of the Crow Wing Game Protective club, and Deputy Game Warden A. P. Cardle had a big crew of men and a fleet of trucks on hand when the "Glenwood" fish car arrived, and the trout were distributed to the various streams as follows:

Spring Brook, Outing, 4 cans, taken by Merton Congdon and Frank Titus; Pollywog Brook, Emily, 15 cans, taken by Ami Shanks and E. M. Vaars; to brooks feeding Round Lake south, 5 cans, and to Buffalo creek, 5 cans, taken by P. H. Rardin; to Sand creek, 7 cans, taken by A. W. Gronquist and Hass brothers.

Twenty cans were taken to Stony Brook and 32 cans to Home Brook by Anderson brothers of Rocky Point. The Breezy Point truck carried 21 cans to streams tributary to Cullen lake. Walter Frampton took 18 cans to Kramp creek. Ed Anderson, Arthur Johnson and Ben Swartz took thirty cans to Cory brook, and the balance of three cans went to Whiteley creek.

It is seldom that trout fry as large as those in this shipment are sent out to stock streams and local sportsmen feel very fortunate in getting them.

CARBON MONOXIDE POISONING IN SMALL GARAGES

The newspapers recently carried a news item of the death from carbon monoxide poisoning, of a prominent Baltimore man, who was found dead in his garage with the engine of his automobile still running. With the onset of cold weather such accidents will probably increase in frequency, says the Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service, who warns automobile owners of the danger involved in running a gasoline engine in a small closed space for any considerable length of time.

In tests of the exhaust of a small 23 horsepower automobile engine it has been found that it discharged approximately 25 cubic feet of gas per minute, samples of which gave an average of 6 per cent carbon monoxide, or 1.5 cubic feet of deadly carbon monoxide gas per minute. Of course larger engines will give off more. Now a ratio of 15 parts carbon monoxide to 10,000 parts of air is considered a dangerous concentration to be exposed to for a considerable time; and the small 23 horsepower engine in "warming up" and giving off only one cubic foot of carbon monoxide per minute would contaminate the air of a small closed garage, 10 by 10 by 20 feet, to the danger point in about three minutes.

Carbon monoxide is a colorless, tasteless, and almost odorless gas. Its poisonous action depends on the fact that it has a much greater affinity for the hemoglobin of the blood than has oxygen — hemoglobin attracting carbon monoxide about 300 times as strongly as it does oxygen. By combining with carbon monoxide, the hemoglobin of the red blood corpuscles is prevented from giving up its oxygen to the tissues. Death results from paralysis of the respiratory apparatus.

The attack of carbon monoxide poisoning comes on insidiously, and consciousness is gradually lost. Even though the victim may become aware of the danger he is often unable to escape from it because of the great loss of motor power.

The automobile worker in a small garage is frequently the victim. It therefore behooves every person who runs his engine in a small garage to see to it that the room is properly ventilated by having the windows and doors opened if he expects to run the engine for even a few minutes.

OHIOAN SHORT ON GEOGRAPHY

Ignorance of Cincinnati Writer Amazes R. R. Wise of Brainerd

LATTER IS NATIVE OF OHIO

Says Radio Article Calls for Necessity of Work 10,000 Lakes Assn. is Doing

It is not surprising that Atlantic coast cities don't know much about Minnesota but for residents of Ohio to profess the same ignorance is amazing, according to R. R. Wise, president of the Ten Thousand Lakes of Minnesota association, former mayor and former member of the board of education of Brainerd and a resident of that city of 10,000 population for the past forty years.

"I happen to be a native of Ohio," said Mr. Wise who is in St. Paul today. "I read in the Pioneer Press this morning that a Cincinnati writer had referred to Brainerd as 'an isolated little city in the north woods.' His ignorance is inexcusable."

"The incident simply proves the necessity for the work which the Ten Thousand Lakes of Minnesota association is doing," went on Mr. Wise. "We are telling the world what we have done in this state."

"In the old days, when I was a boy, people on the Atlantic seaboard would make us Ohioans pretty mad by referring to territory west of the Alleghenies as a wilderness. Today certain residents of Ohio are committing the same error in their ignorance of the great northwest."

"Louis Hill's slogan 'See America First' should be emblazoned on the walls of every school room in the United States. Then perhaps we can catch them young enough to teach average craniums they should consult an atlas of the country before making a statement about any city, village or town in the United States. 'Why, we have twenty-two churches in Brainerd and the Northern Pacific railroad shops with 1,300 employees and a payroll of $200,000 monthly,' Mr. Wise concluded."

Mr. Wise's ire was aroused over the report of an article written by Webb G. Welbourne, which appeared recently in a radio magazine. Mr. Welbourne said he possessed letters from a man living near Brainerd, in which it was stated the only sacred music heard there came over the radio from Cincinnati and that the town was isolated from civilization. —St. Paul Dispatch.

Stanley Vanek Completes Removal of Jewelry Store to 614 Laurel Street

Stanley Vanek has completed the removal of his jewelry store from 710 Laurel street, one block west, to 614 Laurel street, where he will occupy one-half of the store room with the Anderson dry cleaners.

Mr. Vanek has been in the jewelry business for the past seventeen years in Brainerd and during that period has earned an enviable reputation as a merchant and repair man in his line.

In moving to his new location Mr. Vanek is increasing his facilities for serving the public. Additional fixtures are being installed and the stock enlarged. A new electric sign was placed today which is one that should attract considerable attention.

Mr. Vanek will carry a complete line of jewelry, silverware, watches and diamonds and is equipped to do all kinds of watch and general repairing.

The formal opening of this store will be held on Saturday, with favors for all who visit the new location. There will be flowers for the ladies and cigars for the gentlemen. Everyone is invited.

ORGANIZE NATIONAL FARM RADIO CLUB

To make radio the handmaiden of agriculture is the object of a national farm club just organized by the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation Radio Station WLS, according to an announcement by Edgar L. Bill, director of the station. The name of the club, to be selected from suggestions being submitted by its listeners, will be announced December 4, according to Mr. Bill.

"For seven months this station has been sending out programs for farm folk," Mr. Bill says, "and experience has convinced us that these programs are the most important we can put on. Radio means more to rural America than any other group and we are proceeding with our program to make WLS more than ever the farmers' station."

"At present we are devoting thirteen broadcasting hours a week to farm subjects, embracing market reports, agricultural news, weather forecasts and talks by leaders in the agricultural world on matters of vital concern to the farmer. It is to tie the various farm features of WLS together, as well as to provide a meeting place for the discussion of farm problems that the farm club idea is being formed. Every WLS farm listener is eligible to membership."

"The tremendous interest in radio was well demonstrated at the Chicago Radio Show last week. The attendance for the week was enormous and it was surprising to witness the attention given the new science by the people out in the country. A good percentage of the attendance was of people from farm and small town and gave added proof that the man in the field has had his fancy caught by radio to no lesser extent than his brother in the crowded city centers."

MORE GOOD ROADS? PEOPLE VOTED 'YES'

MIDDLE WEST STATES RANK PROGRESSIVE ON BALLOTS FOR BETTER HIGHWAYS

Good roads prospects for next year, which will depend almost entirely on new gasoline tax and perhaps motor vehicle tax laws, are being much talked hereabouts following the adoption of Amendment No. 1 to put gas taxes on highways. Discussion was stimulated also by figures printed in The Brainerd Dispatch, showing that less than a third of the average annual improvement of the last three years can be done next year without new, favorable legislation, also that every $1 of tax paid by the average car owner means $500,000 of extra good roads.

Late reports from the capitol indicate that Gas Tax Amendment No. 1 received nearly 500,000 votes yes and less than 200,000 votes no, some 87,000 more than the necessary majority of the 830,000 votes cast. Action of the next legislature fixing auto and gas tax rates, however, will decide whether the result will mean greater good roads progress in Minnesota. With the single exception of Kentucky which rejected a bond proposal, decisive good roads victories were won in other states, notably in the middle west.

Missouri topped the list of progressive states, citizens voting higher auto taxes, a gasoline tax and bond issues of $15,000,000 annually. A new $100,000,000 highway bond issue was voted in Illinois to go on with paving, which has totalled more than 2,000 miles in two years, and other road work. Texas voted a gasoline tax to speed highway improvements.

Iowa legislative plans are for a gasoline tax and $85,000,000 of bonds for 3,000 miles of paving and 3,000 miles of gravel roads. The general proposal is similar to the Minnesota good roads plan. Wisconsin farmers, through the farm bureau federation, propose to urge a gasoline tax in that state where motorists are paying about double the taxes that are collected on cars and trucks here. Nebraska is to go forward with a better highway program which will benefit tourist business in Minnesota.

All Set

The prisoner was not professionally represented. Before proceeding with the case, the judge said:

"This is a very serious offense you are charged with. If you are convicted it means a long term of imprisonment. Have you no counsel to look after your defense?"

The prisoner in the most confidential manner leaned toward the judge and replied:

"No, your honor, I have no counsel; but I have some very good friends on the jury." —Chicago Continent.

In the Final Analysis

"What do you regard as the most important question in this campaign?"

"The questions narrow down," replied Senator Sorghum, "to one compact and precise—yet elusive—problem: 'How many people are going to vote the way we tell 'em to?'" —Washington Star.

TERRORISTS TO TAKE PART IN THE GERMAN ELECTIONS

HARDEST ELEMENTS IN RED PARTY FORM SHOCK TROOP GROUP

POLICE AIM TO KEEP REDS ON THE RUN, FEARING UPRISINGS

(By United Press)

Berlin, Nov. 29.—Terror is to play a role in the German elections Dec. 7, if the communists have their way.

They have just completed organization of a big shock troop group known as the "Roter Frontkämpferbund," composed of the hardest elements in the red party. Most of the members of this organization have seen service in the trenches and many of them were formerly incorporated in the so-called "Hundert-schaften" or "Companies of one hundred" dissolved a year ago by governmental order. A subdivision of the "R. F. B." as the organization is known for short, is "Der Rote Jungsturm" or "Red Youth Storm."

The terror activity of this new organization will be directed chiefly against the new republican organization, "Reichsbanner schwarz-rot-gold," but some attention will also be paid to the fascist storm troops of Hitler and Lugendorf.

Organization of the red group is in line with open instruction of Sinowjew and others in Moscow for organization of workers' troops to be used against "the enslavement of the German proletariat through the slave chains of the Dawes regime."

The police and Reichswehr are keeping a specially sharp eye on the red organizations, fearing that they will attempt labor uprisings in Saxony, Berlin and other industrial centers. The police everywhere are under special alarm measures which require redoubled watchfulness until the campaign is over. This is also true of the Reichswehr, which in many garrisons is constructing "Spanish riders," as barbed wire entanglements have come to be known. All garrisons are now at full strength all detached groups having been recalled to home stations.

Leaders of the police and army do not exactly anticipate any putsch, as a result of the election campaign, but are known to have shaped their plans for every eventuality. Their program hence includes preparations for a possible outbreak directly after the elections on the part of some disappointed group. Since the nationalists and fascists are the most likely to suffer reverses, it is assumed that this calculation is directed against the chance of a fascist or pangerman putsch.

The fascists at the moment, however, are suffering from internal dissension. They have always been more or less discordant among themselves, but the breach now appears to be broader than ever. Big industrialists are hesitating to throw away any more money into the fascist cause and this is taking some of the fight out of the alleged fighters. At the same time, the communist coffers appear to be completely empty. Moscow, hitherto credited with pouring golden floods into the reds' treasuries in Germany, is apparently not so lavish as heretofore. Moscow, however, keeps a hand on the red movement here and gives it such direction as it has.

The reds, except for their new terror organization, are badly adrift. Their leaders are hunted and hounded by the police, who started immediately after dissolution of the Reichstag to make a clean-up of the leading red deputies, including the stormy Ruth Fischer.

This police search has succeeded so far in keeping the communist campaigners off the stump and confined solely to word of mouth campaigning in the factories and in the columns of the communistic paper "Rote Fahne."

The communists are destined considerable losses to the socialists in the elections. However, they still muster a surprisingly large number of voters, despite the fact the movement itself has lost "punch," since as long ago as 1921.

Meantime, the middle parties express confidence in the outcome of the campaign. They say that the radical parties on the right and left will lose, to the advantage of the middle group.

Chicago Livestock Show Breaks All Competition Records

(By United Press)

Chicago, Nov. 29.—With all records smashed for the number of entries of individual cattle, draft horses, sheep and swine, the International Live Stock Exposition opened here today, celebrating its twenty-fifth anniversary. It will continue through December 6.

President Coolidge has accepted an invitation and will be present on Dec. 4.

A total of 5,105 animals has been entered in the individual competitions. The display of domestic stock during the first week in December will be the greatest assemblage ever brought together at any one time or place, officials stated.

"The previous high water mark was several hundred entries less than the number scheduled to appear here," B. H. Heide, secretary said.

"Cattle lead in the total number of entries, with nearly 2,100 nominations; swine come second, sheep third and horses fourth. The largest increases are in the swine and sheep departments, the Berkshire, Chester White, Tanworth, Shropshire, Cotswold and Dorset breeds showing the greatest number of exhibits. Many herds, flocks and studs make their initial bow at the International, and there are consignments of outstanding animals."

"Thirty different breeds of livestock, as well as various grades and cross-breeds are on the list of contestants. They come from practically every state and Canadian province, and many were originally imported from Scotland, England, Belgium, France, New Zealand and Australia."

7,000 FEET OF SNOW FENCE

Being Installed in Brainerd Vicinity
Preparing Roads for the Winter

MORE FENCE THAN LAST YEAR

Will Aid to Keep Main Highways
Open for Traffic in the Winter Season

The state highway department, in preparing its roads for the winter, is installing 7,000 feet of snow fence in the Brainerd vicinity, says A. W. Moulster, maintenance superintendent. Part of this fence is being erected on Trunk Highway No. 2 near the four-mile corner on Oak street, and the balance goes on Trunk Highway No. 19, between Brainerd and Gull lake. Only 1,300 feet of fence were used last season.

Mr. Moulster states that this is a part of the state's program to keep the main highways open for traffic during the winter. The trunk highways in Crow Wing county have gone into the winter freeze-up in very good condition and should remain that way until spring.

In speaking of Trunk Highway No. 27, Mr. Moulster reported that the old road between Brainerd and Belle Prairie, through Barrows, Crow Wing and Ft. Ripley is just as good since the freezeup, as the official detour is by way of Freedom. Many motorists will choose the former road since it is a little shorter than the detour.

County Highway Engineer Walter M. Murphy, announces that the roads under his supervision are all in excellent shape and since the ground has frozen up for the winter, they should remain in good condition unless blocked by deep snows later.

Construction work on two county roads is being pushed as rapidly as possible. John Humphrey, contractor on the new road north of Crosby, expects to complete the graveling of this road next week. P. J. Roark who has the contract for the construction of a cut-off on State Highway No. 2, known as the Dewing highway, is still operating a steam shovel and is preparing to drain the site of his road so that work in the spring will not be delayed or damaged done to the new construction because of standing water.

A committee from the board of county commissioners, consisting of Frank Lowey, John Dewing and A. G. Anderson, met this afternoon for hearings on the proposed establishment of two roads in Crow Wing county.

At one o'clock a hearing was held on the proposed establishment of a road between sections 10 and 15, township 134, range 29, near Love lake in the Gull lake vicinity. A number of residents of that section wish to have a road laid out which will connect with a road already established that leads to Trunk Highway No. 19.

At two o'clock the committee held a hearing on the proposed establishment of a road between two townships near Borden lake, east of Brainerd, from Trunk Highway No. 18 north through Garrison township and Bay Lake township to the Workman corner, sixteen miles east of the city.

ATHLETIC PARK COMMITTEE REPORT

Total Collected Amount to $1,099.95 in Drive for Funds

J. P. ANDERSON, CHAIRMAN

Business Men, Shops, M. & I. Offices, Paper Mill, Tie Plant, N. P. Yard Men Donate

The special committee from the Chamber of Commerce headed by J. P. Anderson and composed of Mr. Anderson, F. A. Farrar and Mons Mahlum, made the following detailed report of its activities during the past season in putting through the construction of Brainerd's new athletic park located between the Northeast Brainerd mill and the railway tracks.

A total of $1,099.95 was collected in a drive for funds, the donations coming from the following sources:

Business men	$753.50
N. P. Shops	285.45
M. & I. Offices	39.00
Paper Mill	15.00
N. P. Tie Plant	6.00
N. P. Yard Men	1.00

In a previous report the committee estimated that it would be necessary to raise about $4,000 to cover the grand stand, fencing in the grounds, and other required work at the field. It is felt that the reason the drive fell short of this quota is the fact that at the time there were several other campaigns for funds being made, including the Boy Scouts, Salvation Army and the Better Sires for the county, so that under the circumstances the committee feels that it did as well as could have been expected.

After paying out $774.69 for material and labor in putting the athletic park in condition, the committee has a balance on hand of $325.26. Estimates have been secured for labor and bids submitted on material for a grandstand and fencing. The bid on the grandstand, material and labor, is $2,000; for necessary fencing, material and labor, $862, which will make it necessary to raise about $3,000 to put the park in first-class condition.

As it has now been definitely decided by the people of Brainerd where the new high school building is to be located, the committee feels that it is most important that the athletic field project be carried on to a successful conclusion and recommended that a committee be appointed at once to raise the necessary funds and as a suggestion it was stated that it might be possible for this new committee to put on some sort of a winter sports carnival, show or similar attraction, by which a considerable amount of the required fund no doubt could be raised.

It was shown in the report that at Staples last spring the park board, together with the school board, jointly furnished that town with a baseball grounds at a cost of $5,000. A small town a little further west, Battle Lake, through its business men raised $5,000 last spring and finished a very nice baseball grounds.

Brainerd, being much larger than either of these two towns, should, the committee feels, be able to raise $3,000 to complete its general athletic field and it was earnestly recommended that the Chamber of Commerce get behind the project and see that a successful campaign is carried out in the near future.

In Equipping Place, Frank Bidwell Exemplified "Buy at Home" Slogan

The new Sixth Street Cafe is the name of Brainerd's latest contribution to its line of restaurants and is located in the Economy Drug building recently completed at the corner of Sixth and Laurel streets.

Frank Bidwell is the proprietor of the new cafe which opened for business on Saturday morning. In equipping his eat shop, Mr. Bidwell put into practical application the slogan of "Buy at Home." All of his fixtures and kitchen equipment were purchased from Brainerd merchants as was also his stock of cigars and tobaccos.

The interior of the cafe is decorated in a white and silver combination. On one side is a long lunch counter and cigar case, on the other are the tables which are all steel with porcelain tops.

The kitchen is the model of cleanliness and is separated from the cafe with a plate glass partition. The equipment includes a large range, steam tables and a pastry department. Suction fans will carry away all of the odors of cooking.

The Sixth Street Cafe will serve only home made pastry and promises that its meals will taste as near like home cooking as it is possible to make them. Home-cooked dinners at noon will be made a feature and Mr. Bidwell hopes to make many warm friends through the quality of these meals.

Apply For New License

An application has been received at the city clerk's office for a license to operate a pool hall at 610 Laurel street by Smraker and Sandy. This is the location of the Smraker Bros. pool hall the license of which was recently revoked by the city council.

It is understood that strong pressure is being brought to have the council grant this license and it is reported that the council stands five to five in which instance the mayor would decide and it is reported that he is favorable.

This license was revoked after the council had warned Smraker Bros. that they did not approve of their method of doing business and after the grand jury has recommended that no further license be granted.

Personally I am unable to take any action until I receive the copy of the Radio Digest article, but assuming that my friends in Brainerd are keeping me correctly posted by phone, I will state that the article in the Radio Digest has inflicted a wound in the hearts of the people and clergy of Brainerd which can only be healed by the manly and businesslike actions of so valuable a paper as the Radio Digest by offering a complete apology to the people of Brainerd and inviting his brother scribes throughout the northwest to correct this wrong. The publication of the original will show to the Brainerd public that I owe no apology to any one. It was a severe jolt to me and I am sure the Radio Digest will right the wrong done in this article.

Open for Traffic in the Winter Season

The state highway department, in preparing its roads for the winter, is installing 7,000 feet of snow fence in the Brainerd vicinity, says A. W. Moulster, maintenance superintendent. Part of this fence is being erected on Trunk Highway No. 2 near the four-mile corner on Oak street, and the balance goes on Trunk Highway No. 19, between Brainerd and Gull lake. Only 1,300 feet of fence were used last season.

Mr. Moulster states that this is a part of the state's program to keep the main highways open for traffic during the winter. The trunk highways in Crow Wing county have gone into the winter freeze-up in very good condition and should remain that way until spring.

In speaking of Trunk Highway No. 27, Mr. Moulster reported that the old road between Brainerd and Belle Prairie, through Barrows, Crow Wing and Ft. Ripley is just as good since the freezeup, as the official detour is by way of Fredholm. Many motorists will choose the former road since it is a little shorter than the detour.

County Highway Engineer Walter M. Murphy, announces that the roads under his supervision are all in excellent shape and since the ground has frozen up for the winter, they should remain in good condition unless blocked by deep snows later.

Construction work on two county roads is being pushed as rapidly as possible. John Humphrey, contractor on the new road north of Crosby, expects to complete the graveling of this road next week. P. J. Roark who has the contract for the construction of a cut-off on State Highway No. 2, known as the Dewing highway, is still operating a steam shovel and is preparing to drain the site of his road so that work in the spring will not be delayed or damaged done to the new construction because of standing water.

A committee from the board of county commissioners, consisting of Frank Lowey, John Dewing and A. G. Anderson, met this afternoon for hearings on the proposed establishment of two roads in Crow Wing county.

At one o'clock a hearing was held on the proposed establishment of a road between sections 10 and 15, township 134, range 29, near Love lake in the Gull lake vicinity. A number of residents of that section wish to have a road laid out which will connect with a road already established that leads to Trunk Highway No. 19.

At two o'clock the committee held a hearing on the proposed establishment of a road between two townships near Borden lake, east of Brainerd, from Trunk Highway No. 18 north through Garrison township and Bay Lake township to the Workman corner, sixteen miles east of the city.

NEW 6TH STREET CAFE OPENED

Brainerd's Latest Restaurant Opens in Economy Drug Building

CORNER 6TH AND LAUREL STS.

In Equipping Place, Frank Bidwell Exemplified "Buy at Home" Slogan

The new Sixth Street Cafe is the name of Brainerd's latest contribution to its line of restaurants and is located in the Economy Drug building recently completed at the corner of Sixth and Laurel streets.

Frank Bidwell is the proprietor of the new cafe which opened for business on Saturday morning. In equipping his eat shop, Mr. Bidwell put into practical application the slogan of "Buy at Home." All of his fixtures and kitchen equipment were purchased from Brainerd merchants as was also his stock of cigars and tobaccos.

The interior of the cafe is decorated in a white and silver combination. On one side is a long lunch counter and cigar case, on the other are the tables which are all steel with porcelain tops.

The kitchen is the model of cleanliness and is separated from the cafe with a plate glass partition. The equipment includes a large range, steam tables and a pastry department. Suction fans will carry away all of the odors of cooking.

The Sixth Street Cafe will serve only home made pastry and promises that its meals will taste as near like home cooking as it is possible to make them. Home-cooked dinners at noon will be made a feature and Mr. Bidwell hopes to make many warm friends through the quality of these meals.

Apply For New License

An application has been received at the city clerk's office for a license to operate a pool hall at 610 Laurel street by Smraker and Sandy. This is the location of the Smraker Bros. pool hall the license of which was recently revoked by the city council.

It is understood that strong pressure is being brought to have the council grant this license and it is reported that the council stands five to five in which instance the mayor would decide and it is reported that he is favorable.

This license was revoked after the council had warned Smraker Bros. that they did not approve of their method of doing business and after the grand jury has recommended that no further license be granted.

DEPLORES DIGEST ARTICLE

Hopes the Magazine Will Offer Apology to People of Brainerd

Brainerd, Minn., Nov. 27, 1924.

Brainerd Dispatch, Brainerd, Minn.

Editor:— Having received word by phone regarding the publication of a letter by the Radio Digest and again the publication of my original letter. I wish to thank you for the publication of the original letter which no doubt will clear me from any blame.

Personally I am unable to take any action until I receive the copy of the Radio Digest article, but assuming that my friends in Brainerd are keeping me correctly posted by phone, I will state that the article in the Radio Digest has inflicted a wound in the hearts of the people and clergy of Brainerd which can only be healed by the manly and businesslike actions of so valuable a paper as the Radio Digest by offering a complete apology to the people of Brainerd and inviting his brother scribes throughout the northwest to correct this wrong. The publication of the original will show to the Brainerd public that I owe no apology to any one. It was a severe jolt to me and I am sure the Radio Digest will right the wrong done in this article.

Yours truly,

A. L. MAMPEL.

INTERSECTIONAL F.B. TO BOOM IN 1925

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Nov. 29.—Intersectional football in 1925 probably will have its biggest and most interesting year. That means that football in general will be in for its greatest season, as it is the intersectional idea that has been responsible for the amazing growth of the game.

Pennsylvania University grabbed off two of the finest attractions that could be presented in the East by scheduling games with Chicago and Illinois, two of the powers of the Western Conference.

Pennsylvania got the games because the athletic directors at Philadelphia were smart enough to get the jump on other big Eastern universities by agreeing to a home-and-home arrangement.

On a visit to the Middlewest during the past season the writer asked several prominent coaches in the Western Conference why Chicago was the only conference team that seemed willing to book games with big Eastern teams.

"We'll play any team in the East if they will agree to give us a return game at home," the coaches said. It was pointed out that some Eastern teams still had the old idea of superiority and clung to the notion that Western teams should be flattered to get a date on a big Eastern schedule.

"We feel," several coaches said, "that the Western game is just as good as Eastern football, if it is not better. We can't see where we should be expected to take a trip to the East on our knees. We have all the good games we can handle right in our neighborhood and we feel that we are doing Eastern teams a favor to book games with them."

There is no question that Western football is just as good as the Eastern game and that the big Western Conference teams are doing a favor to travel East and pack big stands with crowds that wouldn't turn out for a lot of games that Eastern teams have to place on their schedule. Middlewestern football is too good and too independent to accept anything but a return of compliments and a home-and-home arrangement for intersectional games.

TALKED IN SLEEP, DIVORCE RESULTS

WIFE'S NAME IS VIOLA, BUT HUSBAND BABBLER ABOUT MARY

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 29.—He talked in his sleep and he mentioned her name. And her name was Mary.

Now Mary, as George M. Cohan has assured the world, is a grand old name. But the name of Henry E. Martin's wife happened to be Viola. Hence Mrs. Martin was granted an absolute divorce in circuit court here.

Once, Mrs. Martin said, while she was visiting in the country her husband ran up a large telephone bill and neglected to pay it before her return. When Mrs. Martin expressed surprise at the amount of the bill friends told her that her husband had been calling a woman every day.

On another occasion a photograph of her husband which he had given her before their marriage disappeared. When she asked for an explanation her husband told her the matter was none of her business, she testified.

But Martin had left a memorandum with a telephone number in the house. Mrs. Martin found the memorandum and called the number. As a result of the telephone call she went to a house on Gilmore st., near Mosher, she testified, and got back the picture.

Then came the calls in the night for "Mary." It was too much, Mrs. Martin said, so more than five years ago she and her husband separated.

REDUCTION IN FREIGHT RATES ON PUREBRED HORSES

St. Paul, Nov. 29.—A reduction of one-half in regular freight rates on purebred registered horses, except race horses and on cattle for breeding purposes when moving in less than carloads will be put into effect by all points on the Northern Pacific railroad as quickly as the new tariffs can be published with the Interstate Commerce Commission, it was announced today.

Thirty days' time is required before the new rates can be made effective. The 50 per cent reduction is designed specifically to benefit the livestock industry in the Northwest. Other lines are expected to follow the action of the Northern Pacific.

UNEXPECTED PLAYS PRODUCE THRILLS

GRIDIRON GAMES OFTEN CHANGE BY UNLOOKED FOR MANEUVER

(St. Paul Daily News)

In sport the unexpected—usually produces the big thrill.

Most sports thrive on their uncertainty. Interest would soon cease if every game was the same old stereotyped affair.

The unexpected is not always a brainy maneuver; sometimes it might almost be classed as a "bone." However, as a rule the unexpected requires thought rather than lack of it.

Football, like all other red-blooded sports, offers many opportunities for the pulling of the unexpected. That is what makes it a great game.

Two years ago in a game between Chicago and Princeton, the Tigers, although outplayed throughout the game, defeated Chicago because the team was resourceful, did the unexpected.

The big thrill of that game, which was won by Princeton, 21 to 18, was a throwing of a forward pass by a Princeton man while standing 10 yards back of his own goal line.

Princeton at the time was trailing and there was not much time to play. If Princeton was to have a chance, the Tigers must retain possession of the ball.

Unable to gain in the shadow of their own goal on the first two downs a Princeton player dropped back as if to kick. It seemed certain that a punt would be the play.

Then to the amazement of the crowd and the bewilderment of the Chicago team, the Princeton player completed a long forward pass and it was their ball on the Tiger's 40-yard line. A few minutes later Princeton scored a touchdown.

A forward pass from back of the goal line is sure a rarity in football, truly the unexpected.

A few years ago in a big eastern game with a team trailing by three points, and needing a touchdown to win, the team in possession of the ball on the fourth down made a safety.

This made the margin of difference five points, which still could be overcome by a touchdown. Incidentally, it enabled the team to retain possession of the ball, putting it in play on the 30-yard line.

It failed to produce the desired results but was good football, the unexpected.

In a recent game between Syracuse and Boston college, with the ball in about the center of the field, Syracuse was up against it, third down and about 35 yards to gain.

McBride, star of the team, dropped back as if to punt. On receiving the ball he hesitated momentarily, then picked a hole in the line and raced through a broken field for a touchdown.

Purdue Team Completed 49 of 82 Forward Passes Attempted This Season

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 29.—The aerial attack which Purdue used successfully in putting Indiana to rout, 26 to 7, in the final football game of the season, was not a "flash in the pan," according to statistics supplied today by "Jimmie" James, official statistician of Purdue athletics. The figures showed that Purdue completed 60 per cent of the forward passes thrown during the entire season in seven games for a total of 756 yards. Eighty-two passes were tried, 49 were completed, 17 intercepted and 16 were incomplete.

In the four Western conference games with Ohio State, Chicago, Northwestern and Indiana, the Boilermakers attempted 57 passes and completed 33. Fourteen were intercepted, while only ten were incomplete. The yardage by passes in the Western conference games was 483.

Wisconsin Football Team Played Before 170,000 Fans

Madison, Wis., Nov. 29.—Wisconsin played before approximately 170,000 persons during the football season just closed, according to estimates announced today by Paul Hunter, ticket director.

The Michigan game at Ann Arbor was the largest drawing card, estimates placing the attendance at 45,000. Estimates on the Chicago game gave an attendance of 32,000. Totals on games in Madison subject to change follow: North Dakota, 5,466; Ames, 6,968; Coe, 5,828; Minnesota, 20,138; Iowa, 24,910; Notre Dame, 9,703.

Attendance at Ohio State Games Is Increased 45,000

Columbus, O., Nov. 29.—In spite of a season of few victories, Ohio State university's football team in eight games performed before 250,000 fans, unofficial attendance figures announced at the university today showed.

The at-home attendance for 1924 was approximately 45,000 greater than that of last year. It was just under 200,000; a year ago it was 148,112. The increase is partly explained by the fact that six games were played in the stadium this year as compared with five in 1923.

The attendance at games here was eight times as great this fall as in 1915 and six times as great as in 1916, the year the Buckeyes won their first Big Ten championship.

King George and Prince of Wales Shake Hands With White Sox After London Game With Giants

America's baseball invaders were sufficient attraction to lure four members of the British royal family to one of their games. The photograph shows the king and the heir to the throne shaking hands with White Sox players. Johnny Evers is directly behind King George.

Princeton at the time was trailing and there was not much time to play. If Princeton was to have a chance, the Tigers must retain possession of the ball.

Unable to gain in the shadow of their own goal on the first two downs a Princeton player dropped back as if to kick. It seemed certain that a punt would be the play.

Then to the amazement of the crowd and the bewilderment of the Chicago team, the Princeton player completed a long forward pass and it was their ball on the Tiger's 40-yard line. A few minutes later Princeton scored a touchdown.

A forward pass from back of the goal line is sure a rarity in football, truly the unexpected.

A few years ago in a big eastern game with a team trailing by three points, and needing a touchdown to win, the team in possession of the ball on the fourth down made a safety.

This made the margin of difference five points, which still could be overcome by a touchdown. Incidentally, it enabled the team to retain possession of the ball, putting it in play on the 30-yard line.

Attendance at Ohio State Games Is Increased 45,000

Columbus, O., Nov. 29.—In spite of a season of few victories, Ohio State university's football team in eight games performed before 250,000 fans, unofficial attendance figures announced at the university today showed.

The at-home attendance for 1924 was approximately 45,000 greater than that of last year. It was just under 200,000; a year ago it was 148,112. The increase is partly explained by the fact that six games were played in the stadium this year as compared with five in 1923.

The attendance at games here was eight times as great this fall as in 1915 and six times as great as in 1916, the year the Buckeyes won their first Big Ten championship.
